

Seaweed platforms in unit tanks. Within each unit tank, seaweed platforms were used to attach one thalli and four oogonia collection discs. Egg crate was attached to ceramic tiles (dimension) using two-part epoxy. On each corner of the platform I velcroed oogonia collection discs, methods based from (reference Pearson Brawley 1996 I believe). The thalli were attached to the platform using small pieces of air-line piping and zip-ties.